

Press Release – For immediate release

MadelnHeaven.com.my: Your local wedding portal/directory and community

You're engaged! Congratulations! Now what? After the elation wears off, the panic and overwhelm sets in. What do you do next? There is so much to organize and plan - how will you manage to get all of it done? First, take a deep breath and relax.

MadelnHeaven.com.my, managed and created by Uno.com.my, is here to help soon-to-be-wed couples with their specially developed wedding tools such as Budget and RSVP management, seating arrangements, just to name a few, and hosts a wedding discussion forum along with a diverse directory of over 1,500 listed vendors in the industry from Malaysia and Singapore. Making it easier for couples both local and in Singapore to find everything they need for their wedding, from Wedding Gowns and Photographers to the right venue. Best of all it is 100% free.

"Online wedding planning tools are a plenty on the internet but we have always felt it was missing something. It was not "local" per say, thus the existence of MadelInHeaven.com.my. Our philosophy is simple: Been There, Done That - Share the Experience. We had the pleasure of meeting professionals from the wedding industry and married couples. Working closely, we were able to develop wedding tools that are "tailored" to the local customs and trends found both in Malaysia and Singapore. Best of all everything that MadelInHeaven.com.my has to offer is 100% Free!" said a spokesperson for Uno.com.my.

Wedding reception, Budget and RSVP management is as easy as 1 2 3. MadelInHeaven.com.my allows couples to easily create a reception, invite and send out e-invitation cards to guests for that reception, even create a detailed itinerary for the day of the reception. An invited guest has their own unique RSVP code which they use to confirm their RSVP either through the main website or from the couples personal WedSite (Wedding Website). Within each reception a conveniently placed Budget management section allows couples to manage their budget for the reception and keep track on actual expenditures incurred.

MadeInHeaven.com.my also sports features such as a personal blog, photo galleries, shout out chat, RSVP reply, reception management, etc. all of which shared on the couples personal WedSite with their friends and family.

But MadeInHeaven.com.my isn't just about a bunch of wedding tools to help couples plan their wedding. MadeInHeaven.com.my also host's their own Wedding Discussion Forum with topics ranging from Etiquette and Customs to Bride Chat where brides can vent out at anything and everything.

“Our forum is a knowledge hub to allow couples to share wedding experiences, thoughts and ideas, tips or even simple tricks of the trade from vendors so that other couples may benefit and gain something out of it. Not only are they helping us build a community but also helping others out there plan a better, or should we say their “dream” wedding which they would never forget. Hope to see you there too.”
